

Distribution Functions for Largest Eigenvalues and Their Universality

Craig Tracy

University of California, Davis

We survey the properties and universality of the largest eigenvalue distribution functions appearing in random matrix theory. If time permits, we will discuss the application to data analysis.