Matrix model with manifest general coordinate invariance

hep-th/0204078

Takehiro Azuma
Department of Physics, Kyoto University

Quantum Field Theory 2002 at YITP
July 24th 2002, 16:10 $\sim$ 18:00

collaborated with H. Kawai

Is it possible to formulate a matrix model which describes the gravitational interaction more manifestly?

Can a matrix model describe the physics in the curved space?

- How is the local Lorentz invariance realized in the matrix model?
- Does a matrix model reduce to the (type IIB) supergravity in the low-energy limit?